The Gladiolus Beautiful

Vigorous Northern-grown Bulbs, all ready to bloom for you in your own garden

HOWARD M. GILLET

GLADIOLUS SPECIALIST
NEW LEBANON, N. Y.

Flowers

Food and raiment are for the body, but flowers! flowers are for both body and soul.

When my lips are palsied by great emotions
—love, gladness, sorrow, death,
—and the words I would write come not.
then I send ‘soul-messages’—FLOWERS.

When I look upon a Rose,
all nightmares of atheism vanish;
When I inhale the rare perfume of Violets,
I bow to the Master Chemist;
When my pencil tries to trace
the graceful flutings of the Dahlia
Or my brush match the Exquisite
Color blendings of the modern Gladiolus,
I reverently acknowledge the High Hand of Art.

Some days when I am
in perfect attune with the Creator—God,
I know I hear melodies
Strangely sweet among my flowers,
And Songs—songs like morning stars
Must have sung together at the birth of HIM—The Rose of Sharon.

Without flowers my body could live,
but I know my soul would starve.

Will P. Snyder.

GREETINGS

To my Glad-loving Friends:—

Another year has rolled by, and here I am again with a brand new catalog for your inspection. Some of the older varieties have been dropped, and new ones have been acquired. My acreage last summer was nearly doubled over that of the previous season in order to supply the demand for Gillet's Glorious Gladiolus.

Some growers are offering what they term "blooming size bulbs" at prices below what larger bulbs may be sold for, but I make no attempt to compete in price against half-size bulbs or badly mixed, poorly grown inferior stock, preferring to send out only large flowering bulbs which will give you the best possible results and thereby retain you as a pleased customer. In doing this I price the bulbs as low as I can sell such good stock for. Experience has proved this policy to give the best satisfaction. I have the reputation of sending out "Such big nice bulbs", and this year's crop is a banner one, both as to size and quality.

We seldom make an error in filling a bulb order, but if an error does occur, let me know at once so that I can make it right. I believe the finest advertising my business can have is a well satisfied customer.

My fields are the crowning attraction for "Glad Fans" from all over eastern New York and western Mass. during August and early September, and many are the exclamations of astonishment and delight at the wondrously beautiful blooms.

The bulbs have been harvested, carefully cured, safely stored, and are now waiting to bloom beautifully for you in your own garden.

Very truly yours,

HOWARD M. GILLET,

Member of American Gladiolus Society.

PRONUNCIATION SETTLED!

Considerable confusion has existed regarding the proper pronunciation of this queen among flowers.

At the annual convention of the American Gladiolus Society held in August, 1925, at Rochester, N. Y., the members voted unanimously to adopt the word "Gladiolus", pronounced with the accent on the "o", as proper for both the singular and plural forms.

The word "Gladioli" is now out of date. Also the pronunciation "Gla-di-olus" (with the accent on the "i") is no longer considered correct.

For a nickname, just say "Glads".

A SAMPLE TESTIMONIAL

Gorham, Maine, Dec. 22, 1926

Mr. Howard M. Gillet,
New Lebanon, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

Words cannot express the pleasure I obtained from the bulbs bought from you last Spring. They were true to name, and the best of any I had, and I bought from seven different places. Shall be glad to get your new catalog.

A PORTION OF ONE OF MY FIELDS, SHOWING THE RANK GROWTH OF STALKS

THE MODERN GLADIOLUS

Many people are taking up Gladiolus growing as a hobby. And a delightful hobby it is! To watch, for the first time, the unfolding of a new variety is to the real flower lover a quite thrilling event.

And do you know that a vase of Gladiolus will retain its beauty for more than a week, if the water is changed daily, and a half-inch or more cut off the bottom of the stems?

Remember, too, that an investment in these bulbs will not only give you pleasure this year, but for years to come.

A wonderful improvement has been made in the Gladiolus during the last few years. Those who are acquainted only with the old red spikes which grew in Grandmother's garden will hardly recognize it as they gaze on the large and gorgeous flowers of the modern hybrids which are the result of thousands of crosses made by specialists in this line. The newer kinds embrace many varieties producing from 12 to 20 blooms on a single spike, many of which will measure from four to six inches across. Nearly all the colors of the rainbow may now be found. The combinations of colors and beautiful markings of the petals and throat cannot be surpassed by any other flower. As sturdy as the lily and as exquisite as the expensive orchid it may be grown successfully by the amateur in any ordinary garden, and if several plantings are made in the spring at different times, bloom may be had from the end of July until frost. Covering the widest range of color from the brightest blood-red scarlet, deep purple and rich carmine shades to the most delicate tints of white, pink, yellow and lavender, they prove at once the most showy and attractive of garden flowers. They are rightly called "The People's Orchid." With freedom from disease and insect pests there is no easier flower to grow. No other flower gives so much satisfaction at small expense. If you have never planted any of the newer varieties such as are offered you in this booklet, give them a trial. They will be a delight to the eye and a joy to the soul.

On account of its good keeping qualities the Gladiolus surpasses all other flowers for cutting purposes, and in order to obtain the utmost pleasure from the blooms you should place them in vases in the house. The Gladiolus is particularly adapted to table decoration. Cut the spike in the morning or evening when the first bud opens, leaving at least four leaves on the plant to mature the bulb. Change the water daily, remove the withered portions, and cut (on a slant) an inch or so from the end of each stem. Every bud will open one by one to the very top, and a vase of blooms may be kept fresh and beautiful for a week or ten days.

EVELYN KIRTLAND

CULTURE

If you can grow potatoes you can grow Gladiolus. Plant in any good garden soil as soon as ground is workable up to the middle of June. If several plantings are made at different times the season of bloom will be lengthened. Do not plant in shade of trees or buildings, and do not allow fresh manure to come in direct contact with bulbs. Use well-rotted manure, commercial fertilizer, wood ashes, or bone meal, well mixed with the soil. Set the bulbs five to six inches deep in rows and about three to four inches between each bulb. Rows about 18 inches apart. Or may be massed in beds about four inches apart each way. If planted in quantity and to be cultivated with a horse make rows 30 to 36 inches apart. Keep soil loose and free from weeds. When cutting flower spike let at least four leaves remain on the plant to allow the bulb to mature properly. Dig bulbs in the fall, cut off tops, and after drying in the open air for a few days store away in a dry, cool but frost proof place in the cellar.

Good Garden Labels

may be made by planing lath to a smooth surface, cutting them into one-foot lengths, and sharpening. Dip the sharpened ends into wood preserver, paint the upper half white, and when dry paint the name on with a small camel's-hair artists brush, using black paint. Be careful not to let the paint lap on the wood preserver as wood preserver dissolves paint. Such labels will last for a number of years.

WHAT THEY SAY

Some Extracts From Letters

From Rhode Island—"Enclosed find check for bulb order. The sample order I received last year from you was far ahead of anything I have received from others, and I had a dozen other catalogs."

From Conn.—"So well pleased with the Gladiolus sent me last season that I am coming again. Blooms last season were fine; some of which were photographed."

From N. Y.—"I sent to you last year for some of your bulbs and they were the largest and best I ever had, although I did not send for the expensive ones. Was pleased with my collection, and the extra one was a beauty. Many thanks."

From Pa.—"The Gladiolus bulbs I received from you last year were the nicest bulbs I received and I received bulbs from seven different places. Your bulbs all bloomed and were lovely. Am sending another order."

From Me.—"I never derived so much pleasure from any one dollar as from the one sent you for the Rainbow Collection last year."

From Vt.—"I think it no more than right to enclose with my order a word of appreciation for the bulbs I have already had from you. They have given much pleasure both to myself and everyone who has seen my "glads" in blossom—far ahead of any others we have seen."

From Mass.—"The bulbs I got from you were perfectly splendid, and now I want some more."

From N. J.—"Last year I had from you 30 bulbs at $1.00 (Rainbow Collection) and would like you to know they were fine. I had over 400 bulbs buying some from other places, and yours were the best."

From Ky.—"Enclosed find order for $4.50 and please send me nice big sound bulbs like last year. They all bloomed and were beautiful. Out of five different places your Gladiolus were the best."

From Ohio—"I wish to report that the 300 Gladiolus bulbs which I purchased from you proved very fine and I was well satisfied with the blooms."
